INSIDE VIEW

Learning during a pandemic

Remote learning has become the new norm during these troubling times. The drawback to that is you don't get real-life experience. With covid 19 still running rampant in the U.S, we have no choice but adhere to CDC guidelines to stay safe. With all things considered, we have been able to stay healthy while learning on-site and getting hands-on experience. It has been crucial to keep our mask on all day, sanitize our hands, and maintain a 6-foot distance as well as daily temperature checks. Although everything gets tiresome, we know this is mandatory if we want to continue to learn while physically being on-site.

Project

Ft Morgan

My job as the project manager is to be Mr. Ron's right-hand woman as well as someone my team can communicate with when he is not available. It is my job to make sure my fellow managers are up to date with any information my instructor has, in addition to knowing the schedule for each week. I also convey information to my team that comes directly from our instructor so, everyone always knows what he expects from us. I also help with supervising to ensure that our projects are completed successfully.

Compliance

Ft Shakira

My job as Compliance manager is to make sure everyone is prepared every day at the worksite I make sure everyone is in full uniform with every tool that was given to them I also make sure the students are caught up with every assignment & worksheet that was ever given by Mr. Ron

Logistics

Ft Luzmaria

My name is Luzmaria Nieves, I'm the logistics manager for advanced construction! My role is not a huge one but my task helps out the team tremendously. for instance, I take daily attendance and temperature checks. Also, I make sure everyone is recording and up to date with their notes. Additionally, I help our instructor with staying organized, sending out important emails and reminders. Altogether, I make sure our team is organized and sorted!

Media

Ft Jazaret
